Ramblings

A Psalm to the Wind of Heaven
by Edward Hayes

O wind that blows when and where it will, teach me to reverence the Word of Heaven.
O mover of tree tops and tall grasses, you who are the servant of no other forces, open me up to the mysterious Breath of God.

O Divine Wind, blowing with the Spirit's sweetness through a chant-filled mosque in Arabia, or causing a silent heart to dance in a hidden hermit's cave high in the Himalayas, or caressing with compassion an abandoned packing crate in an urban slum, wherein sleeps a homeless drifter; let me feel your loving touch.

Lift me up above my selfish interests, spreading my concerns wider than myself.
Exhale a gale of your grace into me and set me under full sail as your servant of life and love.
Remind me with your every movement that history has shown clearly how you are the private property of none, how great and passionate movements have lost touch with your breath of life and so have become empty of their youthful zeal.

Wind of Inspiration, Creative Spirit of God, teach me not to forget that you come always as gift.
Remind me always to be ready to receive and romance and dance with joy wherever and whenever you visit, or risk that you may move one without me.
May I ever be sensitive to your gentle breezes and willing to soar with your wild winds!

Congratulations to all those confirmed at the 10:30 liturgy, may the Holy Spirit continue to bless them and their families.

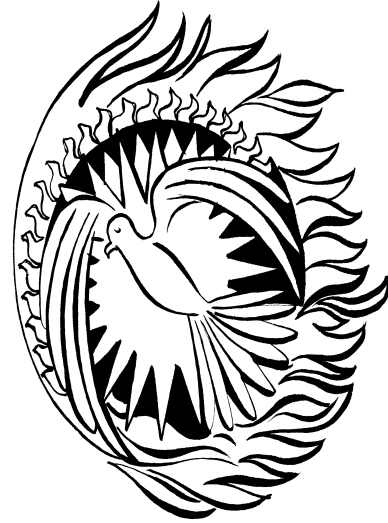

You may have noticed the digging going on during the past week near the old rectory which houses Aunt Martha's. The sewer tiles had broken and caused some flooding in the basement of the building. So the plumbing company put cameras underground and determined the drain tiles were crushed by time and tree roots. To repair all that cost just over $20,000.00. It has been paid for but was a very unexpected expense. But these repairs are to be expected with the age of the buildings that make up our campus. Know that the finance committee continues to use the gifts of your stewardship wisely. Many thanks to all who continue to support the mission of the church here at St Irenaeus.

Peace

Reflections on Today's Readings May 23 Pentecost Sunday

First Reading - Acts 2:1-11

"Are not all of these men who are speaking Galileans? How is it that each one of us hears them in our own native tongue?" Among the Jews, the great feast of the Passover occurred on the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month of Nisan. The Jewish Pentecost or Feast of Weeks, a harvest feast, came 50 days later, in the month of Sivan. The Jewish Pentecost commemorated all the covenants from that of Noah to the giving of the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai.

The Christian feast of Pentecost falls on the seventh Sunday, the fiftieth day, of Easter. It commemorates the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles. It is a harvest-feast of Christ, since on that day Christ's Apostles, empowered by the Holy Spirit, broke out of their cocoon of fear and went forth, courageously preaching and teaching in the face of great obstacles. They baptized thousands; a great harvest of souls for the early Church.

Psalm - 104:1, 24, 29-30, 31, 34.

"Lord, send out your Spirit and renew the face of the earth." We recognize in this Psalm the Prayer to the Holy Spirit.

Second Reading - 1 Corinthians 12:3b-7, 12-13.

Recalling the event of the people receiving the gift of tongues on Pentecost, we hear from Saint Paul on the gift of tongues. Some of the people in Paul's Corinthian Christian Community, especially those who claim to have the spiritual gift of tongues, consider their spiritual gift superior to all others and, thus, judge themselves most important to the community. Others try to place themselves on a hierarchy of importance to the community based on their perceived importance of their spiritual gifts. The wrangling this dissension has brought on prompts Paul to devote the whole of Chapter 12 of his first letter to them to its resolution. Just as each part of the human body, no matter how small, is important to the whole body, Paul tells them, so all spiritual gifts are important to the whole spiritual body. Paul emphasizes that superiority over others has no place in the Body of Christ. Each member of the community, whatever spiritual gift he or she has to offer, is equally important to the Body of Christ. At the end of this discourse, which sought a rational approach to the healing of the divisions within the Corinthian Christian Community, Paul continued, offering a what he terms a "better way." He then launched into his great soliloquy of love which takes all of Chapter 13. It is familiar to most of us because it a popular reading for wedding ceremonies: "If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels but have not love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal..."

Gospel - John 20:19-23.

"Peace be with you," He said again, "As the Father has sent me, so I send you." Then He breathed on them and said: "Receive the Holy Spirit." With Jesus' Resurrection and Ascension, the Old Covenant is fulfilled and the new covenant is established; the Church is born. The Disciples are commissioned by Jesus to carry on the work for which He was sent. He sends them forth, full of the Spirit, to bring his Father's kingdom on Earth to fruition. We follow the Apostles' heroic story in Saint Luke's Book of Acts, in the letters of the Apostle Paul, and those of the pastoral writers, James, Peter, John and Jude. As their stories develop, we see that the effect of the Spirit on the Apostles was awesome. Our Pentecost liturgy celebrates the Holy Spirit's descent upon each one of us. We receive the same Holy Spirit that empowered the Apostles, transforming them into fervent Ambassadors for Christ. If we listen to the Holy Spirit and let it guide us in our lives, it will also empower us, just as certainly as it empowered the first Apostles, to go forth courageously, preaching and teaching the Gospel. Its effect on us can be equally awesome.

New Date for Sr. Mary Anne's Celebration

We will celebrate Sister's ministry on Sunday June 20 with a reception in the back of church after the 10:30 mass. Please plan to join us that day so we all can say thank you to Sister for her nine years of service to our faith community.

A Thank You From the Knights of Columbus

We want to take this opportunity to thank the parishioners from St. Irenaeus, St. Lawrence O'Toole and St. Mary's for their generous participation in the concluded Lenten Fish Fry's. This was a major Council fund-raiser and we sold more dinners than ever before which enables us to continue our charitable community activities.

We want to extend a special thanks to the St. Irenaeus parish staff for their hospitality and assistance as well as to the Ladies Auxiliary of Nina Council for their efforts.
